Supplementary Regulation - Net Run Rate (NRR)

Version 20250719

1. NRR (Net Run Rate) will be used as and where ACCSO Committee decides that a mechanism is needed to separate teams in the following circumstances:
 - a) In a League format, where two or more teams finish the season with the same number of points;
 - b) In a knock-out format, where a match ends with the 2 teams having scored the same number of runs;
 - c) In a T20 competition, where the day ends with all the participating teams having won the same number of matches.
Applies both to a situation where 2 teams play each other twice on the same day, including in a 3-team round-robin situation;
 - d) Where a match cannot be completed on the scheduled day and with no possibility of a replay/postponement.
- e) In all matches, if a team is bowled out inside their allotted overs, their run-rate is calculated by dividing the runs scored by the maximum number of overs which they could have received in that match. See ¶ below.

2. Application: The regulations for each competition will specify whether NRR applies.

3. The NRR of each team is calculated as follows:

$$\frac{(\text{runs scored \#})}{(\text{overs received } \P)} \text{ minus } \frac{(\text{runs conceded \#})}{(\text{overs bowled \#})}$$

Total of runs/ overs in all (1 to n) of the matches concerned.

¶ Overs received or allotted (see 1.e), above.
